Tina: Wow. I can't believe it. You are eating again. Five minutes ago, Mom told me you just finished three hamburgers, lots of fries, one plate of fried fish and one large of Coke. Now, again?

Hank: I know, but I am still hungry. Hey! What are you doing? Give back my seafood noodles. I haven't finished them all.

Tina: You are always eating. Can't you stop eating for a moment? You weigh 100 kilos but you are only 120 centimeters tall. No wonder everyone in your class calls you "Fatty". It's sure that Rome wasn't built in a day. You eat too much. Besides, you may get sick if you keep eating like this.

Hank: But Helen said she likes strong boy. I have to eat more to get stronger.

Tina: Are you nuts? Eating too much doesn't make you strong but fat. You have to exercise to build a strong body. Got it?

Hank: Whatever you said. Now, can I have my food back? By the way, please tell Mom I still need one more plate of fried fish.

47. What kind of food does this sentence, "can I have my food back" mean?
