(51-52)

Dear All,

I'm happy to be the host of our tenth annual class reunion. We're going to have a special event this year. Do you remember the wooden box that we buried under the tree in front of the schoolyard ten years ago? Our English teacher Mr. King had asked us to write down our dreams on a piece of paper, and then put the paper in the box. Well, we're going to open that box this year. It's time to see if we've fulfilled our dreams.

Unlike previous years, we will not be holding the reunion in a restaurant this time. This year, we will meet in our old classroom on July 15th, at 1:00 p.m. I will organize food and drinks for everyone.

You will also be glad to know that Mr. King is coming to our reunion this year. Even though he retired three years ago and has moved back to Australia, he will be flying to Taiwan just to participate in our get-together. We are certainly happy and grateful to know that he's coming over to see us.

If you need any further information about the reunion party, please don't hesitate to write to me.

Yours truly,

Alice Tan

Mia: No. I have a better idea.

Julie: Really? What's that?

Mia: I can make a fruit basket out of the half watermelon.

Julie: A fruit basket? How?

Mia: First, make the watermelon stand on the table and cut off part of its bottom. See?

Julie: Great. And then?

Mia: Use this scoop to take all its flesh out. Look at these red balls. Aren't they beautiful? Next, I'll use this small knife to cut the edge of the watermelon.

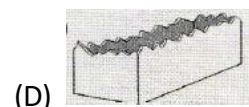

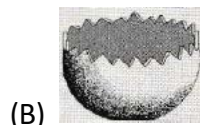

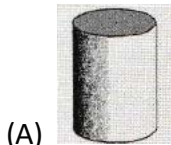

Julie: How interesting!

Mia: Finally, put the watermelon balls back into the fruit basket with some other fruit that is also in a ball shape.

Julie: Wow! The fruit basket is sure to catch everyone's eye.
