Are you smiling right now? What makes you smile? Maybe you smile when you see your friends, eat chocolate cake, or win a prize. Doctors think we should smile often, because it's good for our bodies and minds.

When you smile: you feel happy, you make other people happy, you look more beautiful, and you can "speak" without languages! Smiling means the same thing in every country in the world. There's even a "Smile Power Day" on June 15, when people smile at strangers. But be careful! Most people will notice the difference between a real smile and a fake one. When your smile is real, you use your eyes and mouth. When your smile isn't real, you only use your mouth.

Why don't you try it? Smile for real at your teacher; does he or she smile at you, too?

(C) 39. What does "fake" mean?

- (A) Happy. (B) beautiful. (C) False. (D) Comfortable.

(D) 40. What does "it" mean?

- (A) Winning. (B) Talking. (C) Learning. (D) Smiling.

(B) 41. What can we learn from the reading?

- (A) Teachers often smile. (B) Smiling is good for people.
(C) Don't smile at strangers. (D) Doctors shouldn't smile.

(A) 42. How do you know when someone is happy?

- (A) She smiles with all of her face. (B) She only smiles with her mouth.
(C) She stays with her friends. (D) She eats a lot of chocolate cake.

【F】

Welcome to this book, How Are You Feeling?

We know it's not easy being a teenager. Your teachers give you too much homework, and your parents don't give you enough freedom! Sometimes you have problems with your friends, brothers, and sisters. One day you feel happy and excited, and the next sad or angry.

You're not a child anymore. Your mind and body are growing fast, and that can be hard to understand. The good news is, this happens to everyone, so you're not alone.

This book will let you understand some difficult parts of teenage life. In the first part of the book, we will explain why your feelings change quickly. In the second, we will give you some ideas about how to feel better! We hope you like this book.

(B) 43. What does "One day..., and the next..." show?

- (A) That friends are important. (B) That feelings change fast.
(C) That teenagers sleep a lot. (D) That school life is interesting.

(C) 44. Which of teen problems is not mentioned in the reading?

- (A) Family. (B) Friends.
(C) Money. (D) School.

(D) 45. What is the reading mainly trying to say?

- (A) Teenagers should fight for their freedom.
(B) It's important to be nice to people.
(C) Students should read more books.
(D) It's okay to have all kinds of feelings.
