Dear Emily,

Thank you for your birthday gift. I like the coat very much. It can keep me warm (25) a cold winter day! You are so sweet. In fact, I hurt my leg and head on my birthday. That was terrible, right? My mom and dad gave a bike to me (26) my birthday gift. My big brother taught me to ride it in front of our house. I was too nervous. I fell from the bike and got hurt. My birthday ended up (27) in the hospital for a night. The doctor said my leg was broken and needed weeks to recover. I rested at home for a week and just came back to school yesterday. This was really a "special" birthday to me.

Didn't you join a science camp last month? How was it? Was there anything interesting at the camp? Tell me about it.

Your friend,

Amanda

Speak Up for Our Rights!

(Mom is cooking in the kitchen, and Kyle is telling her about his day.)

Kyle: Mom, yesterday, my teacher had us do something special in class.

Mom: What's that?

Kyle: We joined an activist group, 2019 Write for Rights. The group helps to make people aware of human rights and encourages them to protect their rights.

Mom: So, what did you do in class?

Kyle: The teacher had each of us write two letters. One was to the officials, and the other was to the victims.

Mom: Who are the victims? Can you give me an example?

Kyle: I wrote to Jose Adrian. He is from Mexico. One day, some teenagers had a fight and broke the police car. Unfortunately, Adrian passed by. The police beat him and arrested him for no reason. The policemen even asked his parents to pay a lot of money to get Adrian out of jail and to fix the police car.

【5】 Staying Safe During COVID-19

There are many types of coronavirus. Some are not serious, like a common cold, and some are dangerous. The COVID-19 virus enters our bodies and then grows and makes us sick. COVID-19 goes from person to person easily and can make us so sick that we could die.

We can get COVID-19 from being too close to someone who has it and sneezes or coughs on us. It is also possible to catch it from touching something that a sick person has touched. If we have it on our hands and then touch our face, we can catch it this way too. In order to stop people from catching the virus, doctors say we should wash our hands often and not get too close to each other.

We must remember to be safe now and prepare for the next time there is a dangerous virus.

 type 類型 ; coronavirus 冠狀病毒 ; virus 病毒

(A) Crowded places are very dangerous if you have COVID-19.
(B) Other coronaviruses are worse than COVID-19.
(C) Touching your face can give you COVID-19.
(D) COVID-19 is serious and we should try to avoid catching it.
41. What would be another good title for this reading?
(A) Getting a common cold. (B) Touching sick people.
(C) Fighting a serious virus. (D) Being ready for the future.
42. What is the second paragraph mostly about?
(A) How we can catch COVID-19. (B) The things doctors say.
(C) The things on our faces. (D) Why we cough.
43. What does the last paragraph tell us?
(A) Stop preparing. (B) Another virus didn't come.
(C) Be ready if another virus comes. (D) Help COVID-19 patients.

Plague Doctors

Brain: Hey, Sylvia. Halloween is just around the corner. I am going to dress up as Batman. How about you?

Sylvia: I am going to dress up as a plague doctor.

Brain: A plague doctor? What's that?

Sylvia: Plague doctors treated sick people during the Black Death.

Brain: What? Why would you dress up like a doctor?

Sylvia: Because their clothes are very scary.

Brain: Really? What did they wear?

Sylvia: They wore a long black robe, black hat, and long mask in the shape of a bird's beak.

Brain: What? A bird's beak mask? What's so special about it?

Sylvia: They put flowers in it to cover the smell of the dead bodies around them to keep them from getting sick.

Brain: So ... did the masks work?

Sylvia: Sadly, no. Even though the masks didn't work, the scary and strange image is still popular in some movies, video games and even at Halloween parties.
